Where There's So Much Conversation War Isn't Inevitable

It's hard to find optimism in our relations with Russia, where the language gets worse the further we go, but it is a fact that with an unlimited exchange of ideas and words—and abuse—the chance of immediate violence is considerably lessened.

The international situation reminds you of a rough-and-tumble neighborhood with a couple of characters whose distrust of one another is fabulous. But their words are so numerous and harsh, and they are so busy lining up their respective friends and allies, they never have time to actually fight.

No informed person would be so foolish as to discount the possibility of war, however; and therefore we have to keep on indefinitely with our American armament program.

But still it is within the realm of probabilities that no great and direct conflict between the United States and Russia will actually come off. The better prepared we are, on land and sea and in the air, the greater our protection against direct attack.

These are your reflections, perhaps, as you read the account of yesterday's session around the Japanese peace treaty table in San Francisco. Andrei Gromyko, Soviet Russia's deputy foreign minister, was full of insolence and threats. But everything he suggested regarding the treaty draft was voted down instantly and overwhelmingly.

From her point of view, Russia now understands that the Western world is united and more or less armed—with additional arms coming. Russia knows that one actual blow means war. And war means utter dependence on satellites who have probably less love for Russia than our own allies have for us. It doesn't look like a good gamble—and there's nothing in history to indicate Russia ever went to war deliberately except where the odds were overwhelmingly on her side.

Events can make a monkey out of anyone presuming to forecast on world relations. But it would do every American a certain amount of good to read a short history of Russia, both under the Czars and the Soviets. Russia has always talked tough to the big countries. But her only fighting excursions have been against supposedly weak neighbors—Sweden, centuries ago; Japan, at the turn of this century; and Finland, on the eve of World War.

In the really big shows, Russia had war declared against her—twice by Germany—and had to fight for survival.

We have before us the certainty of a prolonged period of quarrelsome relations, during which we must stay prepared for war; but the actual fact of war is still a question mark hidden in the inscrutable face of a nation half-European and half-Asiatic.

Joe's Bakery Featured in Food Magazine

This month's issue of the Vitality News, a general Mills food publication, carries a feature story with a picture of Joe's City Bakery of Hope, owned and operated by Joe Jones.

FLOODS AGAIN THREATEN KANSAS — Two cranes are kept busy clearing debris which the swelling Kaw River continually lodges against the rebuilt Rock Island Bridge near Topeka, Kansas which was washed out in the monster floods last July and cost the state 2½ billion dollars. Continued heavy rains in Kansas have increased the flood threat to lowland areas of the Kaw river basin, including industrial areas of Kansas City, where existing levees are weak and the sewers still clogged with silt from the July deluge. GROMYKO LAUNCHES ATTACK — Russia's Andrei Gromyko launched a blistering attack on the American-British treaty with Japan as the first business session of the Peace Conference got underway in San Francisco. Gromyko demanded floor moments after the conference was opened and said China had an "indisputable right" to participate in the signing of the treaty. Secretary of State Acheson ruled him out of order, but Gromyko bounced right back and said "we challenge" the ruling. (NEA Telephoto)

Salvation Army Drive Now Totals $1207

A total of $1,207.95 has been reported on The Salvation Army drive for $2,400.00 so far according to Claude Tillery, Chairman of the local committee.

The reports according to divisions of workers are as follows: Rotary Division $419.30; B. & P. W. Division, $364.50; Kiwanis Division, $100.50; L. I. Division, $150.70; American Legion Division, $98.25; and the Boy Scout Division reported $76.70.

Mr. Tillery said that many of the workers had not yet reported and that some had made only a partial report and that the drive would continue a few days longer in order to give these workers an opportunity to see their prospects and turn in their reports to their individual captains, and any who have not been contacted that would like to have a part in this most worthwhile program is urged to make their check or money order payable to The Salvation Army and mail it to Claude Tillery, at the Hope Basket Co., Hope, Ark.

It is hoped that the goal of $2,400 will be reached at an early date, as the Salvation Army has proven its ability to meet many of the needs of small cities like our own through local committees and their vast program of religious and humanitarian work that is carried on around the world today is worthy of generous support from all, and the goal of $2,400 set by the local committee seems a very modest amount for a city like Hope to contribute to this most worthwhile charity.

U. S. Cautioned to Go Slow on German Pact

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

London, Sept. 5 — (AP) — Britain has cautioned the United States against rushing into a new partnership with Germany without insuring its basis is sound.

A foreign office spokesman said today the British view was contained in a personal message sent recently by Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison to Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Morrison apparently said Britain would like Germany to be brought into full political and military partnership with the west as quickly as possible.

The spokesman added that Britain feels, however, "speed must not be allowed to prejudice the achievement of proper and satisfactory agreements."

Morrison's message answered a communication which Acheson sent to him and to French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman early last month.

Acheson set forth a provisional timetable which, if fulfilled by the west, would restore much of the German nation's political, economic and military independence.

Among his suggestions: American, British and French foreign ministers should agree on the main points of their future political and military partnership with Germany when they meet in Washington next week.

Allied high commissioners should then immediately begin negotiating full-scale political and military agreements with the Germans on the basis of the ministers' directives.

The western foreign ministers should meet again in Rome in late October to consider the accords.

In the event they are ready and acceptable, Federal Chancellor Konrad Adenauer should join the ministers in Rome to sign the agreements.

The military accord would be submitted to the Atlantic council of foreign ministers — which is also due to meet in Rome late next month — for formal approval.

All these agreements are to be embodied eventually in a general security alliance between Germany and the west.

Copper Workers Get Back to Job Orders

Denver, Sept. 6 — (AP) — A back-to-work order went out today to union members whose strike virtually shut down domestic production of copper, lead and zinc.

John Clark, president of the Independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, telegraphed all locals to have their members back on the job as soon as possible.

His order late last night followed a district court move to halt the strike.

U. S. Circuit Judge Alfred P. Morrish of Oklahoma City, sitting for District Judge Lee Kious granted a restraining order at the request of U. S. attorneys yesterday. President Truman asked the Justice department to take action under the Taft-Hartly law and a request for the injunction was flown to Denver yesterday from Washington, D. C.

The order restrains the Independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and 21 operators in the non-ferrous metals industry from continuing in any way interference with the production of copper, lead, zinc, manganese, molybdenum and tungsten.

The strike started Aug. 27 and cut off virtually all production of the metals needed in defense as well as other production.

At Nogales, Ariz., late last night, John Clark, president of the union, ordered all locals to "take all necessary steps to have the membership return to work as soon as possible."

He sent a 200-word telegram to all locals. The executive board of the union was meeting there prior to the annual convention.

The telegrams told locals to report as soon as possible "such steps as you have taken in compliance herewith and particularly to report any difficulties with employers in resumption of normal operations and return of membership to work."

Expect 'Mac' to Take Dig at Treaty Deal

Cleveland, Sept. 6 — (AP) — General Douglas MacArthur takes the public platform tonight, at a time when the Japanese peace treaty conference is in full swing in San Francisco.

Although the general gave no indication of his subject matter for tonight, there was speculation that the speech would contain references to the Japanese and the Far Pacific.

Before President Truman stripped him of his commands in the Far East on charges of failing to follow orders, the 71-year-old general headed not only the Allied forces in Korea, but the occupation of Japan as well.

He was not invited to the conference in San Francisco. But in opening the conference Tuesday night, the President referred to the "outstanding leadership of General Douglas MacArthur and his successor General Matthew Ridgway."

In his latest major address in Boston six weeks ago, MacArthur lashed out vigorously at both the foreign and domestic policies of the administration.

The result of the war in Korea, he said, was indecisive, and as for American foreign policy, "the sorry truth is that we have no policy."

He was equally critical of government spending and financial aid to foreign nations.

Flood Threat Is Eased in Kansas

Kansas City, Sept. 6 (AP) — A flood threat to metropolitan Kansas City's industrial districts eased today as rains diminished and the rampaging Kansas river dropped steadily upstream.

The industrial areas remained on the alert, however. They are still recovering from a July flood that caused an estimated $2,500,000,000 damage in Missouri and Kansas.

President Truman spending a brief visit in his home state after attending the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco, planned to tour the flood-harassed districts late today.

Army engineers expressed "reasonable confidence" no new flooding would occur but continued around-the-clock work on dikes.

The weather bureau lowered its crest prediction from 31 to 20 feet and the dikes are believed capable of containing the Kansas river at that figure.

Businessmen in three threatened districts — Argentine, Armourdale and Central — took precautions, however. Merchandise and machinery were moved to upper stories. Railroads moved their freight cars to higher ground.

Two major packing plants — Armour and Wilson — suspended operations. The Kansas City stockyards placed an embargo on all livestock shipments.

East of Kansas City, the Kansas river spilled over some farm lands.

At Topeka, the state capital, the river fell steadily. Approximately 2,500 residents of North Topeka had been evacuated as a precautionary measure, but the river did not overflow there.

A Woman's Theory—What We Know That a Husband Don't Know, Won't Hurt Them

By HAL BOYLE
New York, Sept. 6 — (AP) — An American husband came home from work in the middle of the day, complaining of a headache.

"You're so thoughtless, dear," he wife grumbled. "You should know better than to be sick today. You know this is the day I'm having a bridge party for the girls."

She absent-mindedly gave him a bottle of caffeine tablets instead of aspirin. He gulped down two, and she put him to bed.

Instead of falling asleep he tossed restlessly, wide awake. And those were the sounds that soon floated in to him from the hen party in the living room:

First voice: "What do you think a wife ought to tell her husband anyway?"

Second voice: "Tell him hello. Let's play bridge."

Angry Russians Won't Sign Jap Peace Treaty

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

San Francisco, Sept. 6 — (AP) — Soviet Russia crushed yesterday in her big move to stall the Japanese peace conference angrily denounced the Japanese peace treaty sponsored by the United States and Britain and indicated she would not sign it.

But the western powers, jubilant with their unexpectedly swift victory over the three-power Communist bloc, predicted the conference now will roll along steadily to the treaty signing Saturday, as scheduled.

Representatives of 10 nations were listed to speak in two working sessions today, the second full day of the historic meeting.

Russia's Andrei Gromyko called the treaty "an aggressive military alliance with the United States" and branded it a "preparation for a new war in the Far East."

But he took such a battering on every move he made yesterday that some western delegates believed he might be seeking new instructions from Moscow.

Anything from a walkout to new and stronger threats of war in the Far East was considered possible for the Russians, and their Polish and Czech satellite delegations, in view of the situation which has developed here with extraordinary speed.

Gromyko told the conference yesterday that what the United States and Britain are sponsoring "it is not a treaty of peace but a threat to the preparation of a new war in the Far East."

"The draft treaty," he charged, "reading rapidly from his prepared speech, 'creates conditions for the reestablishment of Japanese militarism, creates a danger of a new Japanese aggression.'"

Instead of providing for withdrawal of foreign (that is, American occupation) troops he went on, "it insures the presence of foreign armed forces on the territory of Japan and the maintenance of foreign military bases in Japan even after the signing of a peace treaty."

"Under the pretext of self-defense of Japan," he said, "the draft provides for the participation of Japan in an aggressive military alliance with the United States."

"The draft treaty not only fails to provide for obligations that Japan should not join any coalitions directed against any of the states which participated in the war against militarist Japan, but on the contrary is clearing the path for Japan's participation in aggressive blocks participation in aggression under the aegis of the United States."

Gromyko wound up his speech with a proposal of 13 major amendments to the British-American draft. These included provisions to force American troops out of Japan, bring Red China into the

Gambling Tax May Bring in $2 Billion Yearly

Washington, Sept. 6 — (AP) — Chairman George D. Qa. of the senate finance committee said today the new gambling tax approved by his group could raise as much as $2,000,000,000 a year.

George and other committee members are highly dubious as to how much money the levy actually will yield, however, since it deals with an activity which is illegal in most states.

The house, which first came up with the tax in its $7,200,000,000 revenue-boosting bill, estimated the levy on commercialized gambling would yield $4,000,000,000 annually.

The levy may face trouble when the tax bill comes up for debate next week. Senator Kefauver, who told a reporter today he will confer with his former crime committee colleagues on whether to attack the gambling tax.

Kefauver, former chairman of the crime committee, argued before the finance group two weeks ago that a tax on gambling would give some color of legality to enterprises the government ought to be trying to shut down.

Besides approving the gambling tax, the finance committee yesterday approved house provisions which will lose about $224,000,000 in revenue annually as compared with present law.

With these decisions, the senate version of the tax boost—stood at $5,972,000,000 very close to the $6,000,000,000 increase favored by George.

The committee members agreed today to work on the low gambling minor item in the house bill.

The gambling tax would include a ten per cent excise on all bets other contests made with bookmakers or other persons accepting wagers for a profit.

It also would apply to bets with lottery operators and to wagers placed in a pool on any sports event or contest if the pool is conducted for profit. A $50 a year occupational tax would be imposed on persons accepting bets and on persons who receive bets for bookmakers.

The lawmakers expect most of the revenue would come from off-track horse race and numbers betting.

Specifically excluded are friendly bets between persons who are not commercial gamblers, card games such as poker, dice games, roulette wheels and bingo games.

George's estimate of $4,000,000,000 potential revenue was made in an interview. It is supported by a report of the crime committee which said $20,000,000,000 changes hands every year in the United States as a result of organized gambling.

George said there is no question that large sums are lost. The problem, he said, will be to collect the tax. Treasury representatives have told the senators that the tax would present many administrative difficulties.

The two major bills, the revenue provisions approved yesterday would:

Exempt from the gambling tax profit made on sales of securities if the homeowner's profit is limited to another home within 18 months. (Estimated annual loss—$112,000,000.)

Extend the parents' deduction principle to many new items such as sand, gravel, marble, granite, stone, gas, and other items, and double the present five per cent depletion allowance on such items. (Estimated annual loss—$100,000,000.)

The first is a provision to break to peace-making, and give Formosa to Red China. Only such changes, he declared, would make the treaty acceptable to Russia.

He got isolated applause from the Communist delegates and advisers — and a loud explosion of "boos" from the spectator sections. The spectators were represented by Conference Vice President Percy C. Spender of Austin. He as Gromyko stalked to his fifth row seat.

Altogether the day was one of the roughest in Soviet delegation over the past few days in public sessions of a major international meeting. In only two hours at the outset Gromyko lost the rules fight that had been expected to last all day at least. A tight set of rules limiting debate and barring changes in the treaty was adopted 48 to 3.

That was at yesterday morning's session, the first business meeting of the conference. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, elected president, immediately shifted the conference into high gear, drawing toward a treaty signing ceremony scheduled Saturday.

In short order, after lunch, Ambassador John Foster Dulles, speaking for the United States, and Kenneth Younger, minister of state, speaking for Britain, outlined the proposed treaty. They said it opened a new era in the history of Japan and bolstered prospects for peace in the Pacific.

As the day progressed, they were followed by representatives of Mexico, the Dominican Republic, Brazil, Chile and Bolivia. All except Gromyko praised the proposed treaty and said they would sign.

In a session opening at 10 a. m. Oct. 10, EST, today speeches were scheduled by the delegates of El Salvador, Norway, Haiti, Nicaragua, Egypt, Laos and Czechoslovakia. This was to be followed by an afternoon session (5 p. m. EST) in which representatives of Pakistan, France and the Philippines were to speak. French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will make the address for his country.

Dulles in his speech had detailed American plans for signing a treaty with Japan providing for continued maintenance of American bases in that country to assure its security. He said, by the threat of Communist aggression, the danger of which has been heightened by the war in Korea.

Gromyko's amendments would demand the withdrawal of all American troops from Japan 90 days after the treaty went into force, and prevent any military assistance by Japan "against any power" which fought against Japan in World War II and require demilitarization of certain Japanese coastal areas.

Russia also would get a veto over the treaty along with other great powers.

The Soviet amendments further would (1) take the Ryukyu and Bonin Islands from United States administration and give them to Japan, (2) legally secure Russia's own hold on the Kurile Islands and South Sakhalin and (3) provide for reparations from Japan to nations which Japanese forces occupied in the war.

The reparations clause was obviously designed to appeal to Asian countries, like the Philippines and Indonesia which have expressed provisions of the American-British treaty draft.

But there was no thought among western delegates that Gromyko actually would influence the course of the conference either with his reparations amendments or his warnings about a "new war" in the Far East.

Neither did a charge he made that the conference was subject to American "dictation" appear to have won him any support. American and British officials privately expressed confidence that the treaty would be signed in spite of anything he has so far done, by at least 47 nations, plus Japan, of the 52 nations represented, including the three Communist countries, the signature of Indonesia only the still appears in serious doubt.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up night after night to pass water. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Vows were exchanged before a central arrangement of white chrysanthemums, white pom mums and jade leaves, interspersed with tall white tapers. Pedestal baskets filled with white chrysanthemums and white pom mums, placed before a background of woodwardia trees and tall white cathedral tapers in seven-branched candelabra, completed the setting. The Reverend S. A. Whitlow, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Prior to the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Hendrix A. Spraggins, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. The traditional wedding marches were used. During the ceremony soft strains of "Clair de Lune" were heard.

Mrs. Spraggins wore a teal blue beaded taffeta dress and a corsage of Peruvian lilies.

Miss Roberta Howard, accompanied by Mrs. Spraggins, sang "Because" and "Through the Years". Miss Howard wore a ballerina length gown of Champagne Nylon Tulle over matching taffeta, designed with a fitted bodice featuring a portrait neckline with stole effect. Her nosegay was of Peruvian lilies.

The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace featured an illusion yoke edged in a border of lace embroidered in seed pearls. The long fitted sleeves ended in calla points over the hands. The full skirt of Chantilly lace extended in points to a deep hem of satin.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a white satin cloche trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis centered with an orchid from which fell white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Brents McPherson invited the guests into the livingroom, where Mrs. S. A. Whitlow introduced them to the receiving line which included the bride couple, their parents, and the bride's attendants.

Autumn shades of chrysanthemums were used throughout the reception rooms. The mantel held a fan shaped arrangement of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Leonard Ellis and Mrs. John S. Gibson, Jr. invited the guests into the dining room. Overlaid with a floor length cloth of yellow taffeta, the bride's table was centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and encircled with bronze and yellow mums. At each corner of the table was an arrangement of yellow daisy mums centered with a glowing white candle and tied with a bow of gold lace maline and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Stuart Fikes of Benton, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake. Mrs. John L. Britt, Jr. and Mrs. Cue McAdams, aunt of the bride, alternated at the punch bowl, which was placed on a side table with a lace cloth.

Visitors Have Huge Weight Advantage

Hope's Bobcats will work out under lights tonight in preparation for the opening football game of the season Friday night at 8 oclock in Hammond Stadium against the Stamps Yellowjackets.

In the weight department it looks black for the Bobcats whose starting team tips the scales at a 134 pound average as compared to 168 for the Stamps. 14 pounds per man difference.

The lines of the two teams are even more lopsided for the Bobcats. Hope 150 to 180 for Stamps a 22-pound advantage for the visitors. The backfields of the two teams are the same at 140 pounds per man.

There is no doubt in the Bobcats' camp that Stamps, champions of their district last season and finalists in the state playoffs, are again loaded.

So from any angle the Bobcats are in for a rugged night for an inexperienced squad.

V. A. to Fire 5,000 'Workers'

Washington, Sept. 5 — (AP) — The Veterans administration said today it will fire about 5,000 employees by Oct. 10 to meet budget cuts. The agency said the reduction will be nationwide and will include all administrative activities. Excluded are employees of the department of medicine and surgery, who staff VA's 151 veterans

Body of Indian Buried in Arlington

Washington, Sept. 5 — (AP) — The body of Sgt. John Rice, Winnebago Indian who was denied burial in an "all white" cemetery, was laid to rest with full military honors today in Arlington National cemetery.

President Truman's own honor guard from the Third Infantry Division took part in the ceremony only a few yards from the hillside graves of General of the Armies John J. Pershing and of General Walton Walker, late commander of the Eighth Army in Korea. "Taps" sounded over Rice's grave just one day less than one year after the 37-year-old soldier from hospitals and its numerous clinics. The agency's appropriation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952, limits VA's expenditures for non-medical personnel to $195,000, 000. The agency's peak employment in February, 1947, was 220,131. As of July 31 this year it was 182,230. Winnebago was killed in action during one of the grimmest periods of the Korean war. It was eight days ago that Rice's burial was halted at the graveside in St. Louis City, Mo., because cemetery rules prohibited the burial of non-Caucasians. President Truman offered an Arlington burial on the following day. A black caisson drawn by six gray horses bore the soldier's body, encased in a flag covered coffin, from the Fort Myer, Va., chapel to the canopied gravesite. In the shadow of the canopy, Rice's 35-year-old mother, Mrs. Sammie Davis, leaned forward in her wheelchair and sobbed quietly as a Catholic Chaplain, Capt. John J. Orel of Rutland, Vt., conducted the burial rites.

University Building to Cost $29,999

Fayetteville, Sept. 5 — An apparent low bid of $29,999.99 has been submitted for construction of a new law school building at University of Arkansas. The bid was offered by Everett E. Bird construction co., of Fayetteville yesterday. Nine other firms also bid on the project. All bids were taken under advisement by the University's board of trustees.

Peace Meet Is Cold-Blooded Business

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 6 — (AP) — This is a coldblooded business, dressed in a cutaway, at the Japanese peace treaty session in San Francisco. No one is being kidded, least of all those taking part. It's surrounded by all the usual trappings of high diplomacy. But it's the raw and naked power of the United States meeting the raw and naked power of Russia head on. It's deadly without shooting. This time the U. S. has Russia over a barrel. And it's taking full advantage of that fact. Both sides recognize it. But for appearances' sake they go through the diplomatic song and dance. The case can be stated in short order.

The U. S. wants this treaty because it gains a powerhouse ally in the Pacific to block any Russian moves. Japan will be allowed to rearm and the U. S. will have troops there. For these same reasons Russia is against the treaty. There are only three Communist delegations at the treaty session: Russian, Polish, Czechoslovakian. But the treaty hall is packed with this country's friends and allies. They can swamp the Communists at every turn on any question with their votes. At yesterday's first full session, when the Communists tried to mess up the works, they were politely allowed to talk in relays for a couple of hours. Then they were voted down.

If you watched this performance on coast-to-coast TV you might have been struck by the intense seriousness in the faces of all the delegates, including Andrei Gromyko, who led the Russians, and secretary of State Acheson, who acted as chairman and blew the whistle on the Communists. But everyone in the hall knew the outcome, before the start, including the greatly outnumbered Gromyko. It was a diplomatic show played by the Americans and British. They did it by drawing up beforehand a set of rules under which all the delegates would have to do business. And there was a gimmick in the rules: They put a time limit on talk by any delegation, a device with one purpose only: To stop the Russians if they tried any monkey business, which is why they went there.

Under the rules the treaty, prepared by the U. S. and others, was to be accepted and signed as is, without changes. If the Russians could filibuster, they might delay the signing for days. One sure way to stop them was that time limit in the rules. But before the rules could go to effect, a majority of the delegates had to approve them. That's when Gromyko and his friends did their talking: To block or change the rules which would shut them up later. After letting the Communists have their say, Acheson called for the vote which adopted the rules. That finished that, for the time being, anyway. This country never has been able to work out a peace treaty with Russia on Germany and Austria. Russia has occupation troops in both countries. So long as it keeps them there, which may be for years, it can stop any German-Austrian treaty unless it gets what it wants. And if for no other reason than to keep Japan weak and unarmed, a soft touch for later, the Russians would stop a Japanese peace treaty if they could. But in this case they couldn't. They have no troops there. The U. S. wanted to make a Japanese peace treaty it could, and the Russians couldn't block it.

Calm and reasonable settlement of differences between the U. S. and Russia has become next to impossible. Both now have resorted to force: The U. S. is trying to build a ring of armed allies around the Communist world which is arming and trying to expand. The San Francisco meeting is just part of the power struggle, except that it's dressed up fancy. Portugal Sailors Are Rescued Galveston, Tex., Sept. 5 — Two Portuguese who set out for America in a small boat were brought ashore yesterday after spending 27 days at sea—the last four without food or water. A steamship, the SS Oscar Chapple, found them drifting helplessly after a storm had broken their job and mainmast. The Chapple brought them to Galveston yesterday. The immigration service placed them in jail pending a hearing.

The two adventurers are Victor Manuel Castano (CQ) 22, and Evaristo Dasilva Gaspar, 27, from Ponta Delgada, to Azores. Of three, is a carpenter by trade. Gaspar is unmarried and a seaman. Both were unemployed. Their families were sinking deeper into poverty, so they decided to pool their abilities in an effort to reach America, they said. They built a 30-foot sailing craft, a two-masted job with an enclosed cabin. They steered by compass and set a course by the stars. They had no charts. Twenty days sailing brought them across 800 miles of ocean, and then they ran into heavy weather. The storm lasted two days and the boat lay helpless when it ended. They hoisted a distress signal and on Aug. 28 the Chapple came along and picked them up.

Says Movie Lovers Have Lost Finesse

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Sept. 5 — (AP) — "They don't make love today the way we used to."

The man speaking was House Peters, the romantic star who flattered many a heart in the roaring '20s. Now Grey and distinguished, he is performing his first screen role in 23 years and he paused to reflect on the quality of movie love-making today.

"The screen lovers of today just don't have the finesse with a woman," he sighed. "They look at a woman as though they were going to attack her. They have no consideration for the subtleties of romance."

"In the silent days, we were in no hurry when it came to making love on the screen. There are so many nice things you could do merely by holding a girl's hand or touching her face. It is the preliminaries that count."

Peters admitted that the screen lovers of his day had one distinct advantage—the long kiss. Today's film idols are limited to only a few seconds for their smooches.

"Of course, I was never the overly romantic type of lover like Valentino or the other Latinos," he continued. "I was too manly looking for that. I got a laugh the other day by looking through an old magazine. There was a letter from a woman who said I was the only clean American lover on the screen."

Actually, Peters was born in Bristol, England, and still bears an accent of his homeland. He played on the stage in England, South Africa and other parts of the world, finally landing in the U. S., where he appeared in "the Squaw Man" among other plays. He entered films in 1915, starting at the salary of $100 a week for Adolph Zukor.

He was earning $2,500 a week at MGM in 1923 when he made his last picture, "Rose Marie." He and Joan Crawford played the roles which were later enacted by Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald in the talkie and singing version.

Why did Peters quit pictures? "I was getting tired of it," he recalled. "The talkies were coming in and everything was in a turmoil. The scripts that were offered to me were to use a Hollywood word, lousy. I had saved up a dollar or two, so I decided to quit and take life easy."

In the years since then he has dabbled in the stock market, done a little play work and generally enjoyed his retirement. But old-time director George Archainbaud induced him to return to films for a role as a parson in Gene Autry's "The Old West". His son, House Peters, Jr., plays the heavy in the film.

"Junior plays a good heavy," he said proudly.

Rapist Executed in Texas Prison

Huntsville, Tex., Sept. 5 — (AP) — Fred Felix Adair, who preferred death to years in prison, was electrocuted early today for raping a housewife in the presence of her two children.

The 27-year-old, handsome, former clerk had said he would "rather die in the electric chair than face life in prison."

He was executed for the rape of a housewife in a Dallas suburb in 1949.

Two Negroes followed Adair in the electric chair. They were Allen Matthews of Bellair, a Houston suburb; and L. C. Sims of Josefine, Tex.

Matthews, 26, was convicted of raping a Bellair mother at knife-point a year ago while her two children watched.

Sims, also 26, was convicted of raping a 60-year-old woman near Josephine in Collin county last year and of shooting at her six times.

just for him to help you out if your need is so great. If he, too, is struggling to make ends meet, and rendered by the oldest son, it is probably unlikely that you will ever receive it. Trying to make an adjustment of a matter that goes back several years usually presents difficulties. If your in-laws are adamant about their inability or unwillingness to give you this money, you had best let the matter rest before you stir up hard feelings among everyone.

Dear Miss Dix: Some time ago I met a man who was very nice in every way. We went steady for two years, then he told me he didn't want the responsibilities of married life, and we broke off. Now after six months of not seeing each other, he wants me to go out with him again. I feel I am in love with him, but do you think I'd be foolish to go with him again? When we broke up I dated a number of other men and right now have another chance to marry, I'm 28.

Answer: If your friend still has the same feeling about matrimony you would be very foolish to go with him again. Unless you just want pleasant company, you're wasting your time. A man who is not willing to marry is not in love. Don't get too involved, and run the risk of heartbreak that you can now avoid. As for the other matrimonial opportunity—just be sure you are really in love with any man you decide to marry. Don't grab second best just for the sake of a wedding band. It's too tenuous a tie to hold a reluctant hand. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

143 Polio Cases in August

Little Rock, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Polio incidence in Arkansas reached a high mark for 1951 in August, when 143 cases of the disease were reported. The state health department said today this was the second largest total this year reported in August and brought the total cases for the year to 231.

Indications are, the department has pointed, that the peak of the disease has passed. Thirty-three cases were reported the last week of August, compared to 36 the previous week. Pulaski county has reported the

President Opens Own Peace Drive

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—President Truman yesterday opened a peace offensive of his own in San Francisco and at the same time tried to get the Russians on the spot if they tried any shenanigans there.

Whether his emphasis on peace brings peace or not, such as a settlement in Korea remains to be seen. But it's doubtful any time to be made the Russians, some not as easy to change their point.

A month or so ago he told a Democratic party rally he had gone to California in the interests of world peace. And last night he showed what he meant in a 3,000-word speech at the Japanese peace treaty signing session.

In that speech he used the word "peace" 14 times. In practically every other paragraph of his talk he was saying to his listeners that he was trying to bring them home.

He reminded the delegations from the various nations that this treaty was to be signed against the backdrop of the still unsettled war with Russia in Korea.

But even if somehow the shooting in Korea is stopped, it will mean peace in only that one place. The on-going war with Russia will continue.

The word will keep on building its defense, drawing an armored line around the communist world, and the Russians will not abandon their world-wide burning of any peace.

The state department's "Voice of America," of course, will relay the president's talk of the American desire for peace to all corners of the earth.

So at least San Francisco now joined him with the opportunity of presenting to the world the picture of America as a peace-maker and largest number of polio cases in the state this year. 79 Jefferson county ranks second with 30.

Fort deaths have been attributed to the disease in Arkansas so far this year.

No Change in Korean Peace Situation

Tokyo, Sept. 5.—(AP)—For the first time in days no notes were exchanged today between the U.S. National Command and Communist Korea on the suspended peace talks.

Even the Red station usually loaded with news and dispatches on the subject, were comparatively quiet.

It was believed that Gen. MacArthur's B. Ridgeley, U.S. commander in chief, had completed a message to be sent to the North Koreans. It will reply to North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Premier Zhou Enlai, Sunday, they said.

Insisting that Ridgeley's letter was "insulting" and "provocative," the Communists refused to accept it, and the negotiations were broken.

There was no hint of what Ridgeley would say.

It was pointed out that the U.S. commander in chief had the right to refuse to accept a message in return. These remarks, however, were not intended to be taken as a challenge.

Official efforts have failed to reach the peace talks.

Ridgeley originally proposed that peace talks be held on the Dutch hospital ship, the Unsinkable, off Wonsan on the Korean coast.

The Reds suggested Taehung, an island in the Yellow Sea, as a neutral territory for the peace talks.

Every break in the negotiations has resulted from an incident, real or imagined.

The Reds broke off talks Aug. 2, charging a U.S. plane bombed the Korean coast. The U.S. said the plane was a reconnaissance plane.

The Communists subsequently have charged many other violations.

The Allies have rejected every complaint.

Ridgeley's reply to Kim and Peng was said to be being checked by the joint chiefs of staff in Washington.

It was not announced when it would be delivered. One source said the reply would be the return to Korea of Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U.S. armistice delegation, and two other negotiators who are here with him.

This informant said he took it for granted Joy and Ridgeley conferred again Wednesday.

of commitment to the enemy of peace.

What he had to say about the Japanese peace treaty wasn't new. It had all been thoroughly explained and hashed over before.

He saved his direct shot at the Russians, without naming them, for almost the very end of his speech.

Of all the delegations at San Francisco the large Russian group is the only one expected to denounce the treaty, try to block it or use the occasion for anti-American propaganda, and probably, as usual, call this country a warmonger.

Without using the word "warmonger" himself against the Russians, the president in effect beat them to use of the word by warning they'd be warmongers if they tried to block the treaty. He said:

"The treaty now before us offers more than talk of peace. It offers action for peace. This conference will show, therefore, who seeks to make peace, and who seeks to prevent it; who wishes to put an end to war and who wishes to continue it."

The Russians traveled half way around the world to San Francisco to do what he said it was they came there to do. They came with instructions. It's unlikely anything Mr. Truman said could change their intentions, which won't be known till they start to talk.

But at least Mr. Truman got free jump on them and put them in the position of some grapes from this point on at San Francisco. In the long war with Russia this is hardly more than a mild achievement.

Air Tragedies Climb to Ten

Anchorage, Alaska, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Alaska's air tragedies climbed to 10 in the space of six weeks when a twin-engine plane crashed in suburban Rogers park yesterday, killing five people.

Pilot Norm Mather fought to keep the plane from striking houses, bringing it down in flames in the back yard of an occupied home.

Horribly burned, he was pulled from the wreckage alive but died en route to a hospital. Also killed were the four passengers of the Cessna, an air mail craft, piloted by O. M. Benson of Anchorage.

Witnesses said one engine of the Cessna plane caught fire just after takeoff, while the ship was about 100 feet off the ground. It was on a commercial flight to Seward.

Eighty-nine people have been killed or lost in the series of accidents since a Korean air-lift plane disappeared July 21 with 31 aboard.
